SAN JOSE, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1945

CLOSE VOTE IN ELECTION

THOMAS EAGAN TO DIRECT SYMPHONY LAST TIME JUNE 12

Appearing in his 53rd concert here, counting both student and faculty time, and conducting for the last time, Thomas Eagan will direct the San Jose State college symphony orchestra in its program Tuesday evening in Morris Dailey auditorium at 8:15.

The concert Tuesday will be Eagan's last appearance as conductor, because Adolph Otterstein, Music department head who has been on leave in military service, will return in the fall to resume his position as conductor. Eagan is director of the woodwind choir and symphonic band.

Mrs. Edith Eagan will be featured soloist for the evening, making her 30th appearance as a member of the San Jose State college symphony orchestra. She will play the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 1 in C Major, conducted by her husband and accompanied by the symphony orchestra.

At present, Mrs. Eagan is part-time piano instructor, a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music honorary society, and has been soloist and accompanist for many musical activities. She studied piano with Mrs. Augusta Brekelbaum, Mrs. Tamara Morgan, and recently with Benning Dexter.

The program for the evening will be as follows: Carnival Overture, Op. 92, by Dvorak; Piano Concerto No. 1 in C Major, Op. 15, by Beethoven; Rustic Wedding Symphony, Op. 26, by Goldmark; and the Prelude to the Meistersinger, by Wagner.

The program is free to the public.

McCue, Popovich Win Student Court Positions

Election results of yesterday's election were unusually close, announced members of the court when releasing names of the victorious candidates. Ken McGill captured the post of yell leader, while Ruth McCue and Olga Popovitch were victorious in the senior justice race for the Student Court. McGill has served as yell leader on appointment since last February when the elected leader left college. Olga Popovitch served in the capacity of Revelries dance director during the winter quarter.

Hugh Johnston and Pat Dunlavy won the positions of senior class representatives. Johnston has served on the council for a year as junior representative as has Miss Dunlavy.

Jan Hagerty and June Robertson won the posts of junior representative.

Emerson Arends and Bill McFarland will serve as sophomore representatives on the council during the coming college year. Arends was elected to the post of freshman representative and has served in the capacity since winter quarter.

Ballots cast were below the average number and though competition between candidates was keen it appeared that the general interest of the students was below the usual caliber.

Women P.E. Grads Will Be Honored

The faculty of the Women's Physical Education department are honoring their graduating seniors and critic teachers at a picnic tomorrow afternoon at "Wake Robin" in Los Gatos.

GILLIS PROGRAM TONIGHT AT 8:15

Students and public will be admitted without charge this evening to Dr. Hugh Gillis' experimental program in which the members of his Repertoire class present monologues, a one-act play, and scenes from Shakespeare. The program begins at 8:15 in the Little Theater.

Noel Coward's bitter comedy, "Fumed Oak" will be the one-act play which is the main feature of the evening, according to Dr. Gillis, Speech department head. Well-known students actors will take part in the production. John Calderwood plays the part of Henry Dow, a neglected and unhappy husband whose homelife is beset with the bickering and quarrels of his wife and mother-in-law, played by Stella Pinoris and Joanne Hildebrandt respectively. Elda Beth Payne takes the part of his spoiled and adenoidal offspring, little Elsie.

NATURE MOVIE GIVEN MONDAY BY AUDUBONS

"Music of the Out-of-Doors," a motion picture of the great American wilderness, presented in color and narrated by Bert Harwell, former Yosemite park naturalist, will be featured at 8 o'clock Monday evening at the Santa Clara County Audubon society meeting in Palo Alto High school.

Harwell has just returned from a lecture tour in the East, where he showed his film at numerous colleges and schools. He is now western representative for the National Audubon society.

Admission to the lecture-movie will be free of charge. Persons from San Jose may go either by private car or by Greyhound bus, which passes by the school.

Newman Club Plans Picnic For Sunday

Newman club members have planned their last communion-breakfast of the year for 8 o'clock Sunday morning. From there the group will have time to go home to don picnic togs to attend Newman's annual spring picnic.

They will leave at 12:30 for Alum Rock park for a wiener roast "with all the trimmings." Games and swimming will be in order for the day.

HIGHEST SCHOLARSHIP TO BE HONORED TODAY AT RECOGNITION ASSEMBLY

Students holding the 10 highest scholarship records in the college, and seniors who have achieved the best averages in the 1944-45 classes will be among the outstanding students honored today at the Recognition Day assembly at 10 a.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium. The group of students with the ten next highest record in the college will receive honorable mention awards from Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, who will present plaques to the first 10.

ASB President Howard Riddle will conduct the program, which was planned by Marge Howell. The other members of the Student Council will be present, and newly-elected ASB officers and Student Court members will be introduced during the meeting. Outgoing officers and members will be recognized for their services.

New members of Spartan Spears and Black Masque will be announced, and the English, Commerce, and Language departments will present their annual awards.

Student body groups whose outstanding members will receive plaques include the Rally committee, Spardi Gras committee, AWA, Red Cross, La Torre, Spartan Daily, Spartan Revelries, and others who have given service.

Students will be excused from their 10 o'clock classes in order to attend the assembly.

SENIOR BALL BIDS ON SALE FOR $2.50

Senior ball bids are now on sale for $2.50 in the Business office. The bids will be restricted to seniors until Monday, when sales will be opened to the entire student body. Attendance will be limited to 150 couples.

"Strictly formal" will be the keynote of the ball, to be held at the Sainte Claire hotel on Saturday evening, June 16, from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Except in the case of service men, dress will be restricted to formals and tuxedos.

MARGARET AIRTH WINS HONOR ROLL AWARD

Margaret Airth, music major from Eureka, leads the 25 seniors graduating June 22 With Great Distinction for scholarship: Donda Mary Hanley, education major from San Jose, places second; while Clara Lillian Colley, home economics major from San Jose, is third highest, according to an announcement made by Miss Viola Palmer of the Registrar's office. ### Senior Scram Group Will Meet Today At 5; Slacks To Be Worn

The day has arrived for the annual Scram, so all seniors are asked to meet in front of the Student Union today at 5 p. m. fully equipped with coats, sweaters, blankets, bathing suits, pajamas; jeans or slacks are the official costume for the outing.

The group will go to the YMCA camp and will eat upon arrival. Following supper a campfire program will be enjoyed. Breakfast, camp style, will be the morning's program, after which the seniors will leave for Forest Pool.

As for the juniors who plan to go on the Scram, their group will gather at the Student Union Saturday morning in time to board the bus which will leave for Forest Pool at 9:30 sharp. The chartered bus will carry 40 juniors, but five or six private cars are expected to transport the rest.

Madge Jennings, class president, reminds all juniors to be certain to bring their own lunches. If the one dollar fee has not been paid to the Business office by Friday afternoon, there will be people to collect it from each passenger before the bus leaves. Once more, all students are requested to be prompt.

THROUGH OTHER EYES

By DAVE WEBSTER

Attended a dinner last evening at which there was a very fine speaker. He told, among other things, of an experience he had some years ago when his family was on a vacation in a cabin which featured double bunks. Of course the children vied for the privilege of sleeping in the upper story, and it was Mother's job to act as the referee in order that each child take his proper turn.

One night, however, the duty was turned over to Father. He succeeded quite well in preparing the offspring for bed, and got them installed each in the proper bunk. But when prayers had been said it was time for each child to be kissed good night, and here Papa fell down. He didn't do so badly considering the conditions with the child in the upper bunk, but when he leaned over the lower bunk to kiss his small daughter good night, came the blow-up.

"Gee, Daddy," she chirped. "You can't kiss very well. Relax!"

Still on the subject of that particular form of double bed, we were accosted by a character (one of those who hang around the Pub office). "What would you say if I told you about the bunks we have home on the farm? They are four high, and each bunk is 15 feet long and 10 feet wide."

Then, without waiting for our comment, he answered his own question. "That would be a lot of bunk."

The latest furor in this den of furors labelled room 17 concerns a book entitled "Generation of Vipers," by Philip Wylie. A fellow columnist was making inquiries about it, in hopes of getting a copy to read. Seems that a friend had recommended it to her as one of the best recent books, so she asked at the library for a copy, but they didn't have it.

Dr. Hugh Gillis said he had read it, but added that he didn't like it. As our friend turned away, Dr. Gillis said, "Have you read it?"

"No, but I'm in the process of locating a copy to read."

"Well, it is a good book, but it's vulgar. I think that Wylie could better have said what he had to in a very few sentences. But it is a good book."

So our friend is checking up on the opinions of other folk and now is so taken aback that she not only doesn't want to read the book, but is after the head of the person who told her to read it in the first place.

"It's a good book, though."

SPARTANS IN THE SERVICE

By ELEANOR FRATES

Former student Gordon Fine recently was commissioned a Marine Corps second lieutenant upon completion of officer training at Quantico, Va.

He is awaiting assignment to a combat unit, or to a specialist school.

Sgt. Pete Felice, Spartan graduate, was a member of the "SOS Sharpshooter," basketball squad which recently competed in an all-China tournament.

The tournament was composed of teams from all branches of the service, and trophies and individual awards were presented to the champions and runners-up.

Felice is on duty with Services of Supply in the China-Burma-India theater.

Award of the second Oak Leaf cluster to his Distinguished Flying Cross and third to his Air Medal for Lt. Eugene Rizzolo, former Spartan, has been announced by the commanding general of the 10th Air Force in Burma.

Lt. Rizzolo, a C-47 pilot with a combat cargo group of the 10th, has 1400 hours in the big, unarmed transports, 825 of them in the face of expected and probable enemy attack. He received his overseas training at Mather Field, Sacramento, before going to the CBI theater 10 months ago.

First Lt. James Hurd, former student here, recently arrived at the Fourth Air Force's Army Air Field at Mountain Home, Idaho.

For "meritorious achievement" while participating in bomber combat operations over Germany and enemy-occupied Europe, First Lt. Dan Haley, student here in 1942, has been awarded the Oak Leaf Cluster to his previously won Air Medal.

Lt. Haley, bombardier on a B-17 Flying Fortress, was a member of the 91st Bombardment Group, veteran heavy bomber unit of more than two years' service in the European theater of operations.

Marine Captain Donald True, graduate of State in 1942, has reported to the Marine Corps Air Station for duty as a pilot with the Ninth Marine Aircraft Wing.

Capt. True received the degree of bachelor of arts in commerce and during his last year in college was president of the Associated Students. He joined Delta Theta Omega fraternity and was a Duke of the Spartan Knights.

True enlisted in January, 1942, and completed his flight training at Corpus Christi, Texas, in March, 1943, receiving his wings and original commission.

RADIO GROUP VIEWS REHEARSAL OF 'BLONDIE'

By DALE BOWER

So begins the second chapter in the story of the Radio Speaking class field trip to Radio City in Hollywood.

At CBS we were supposed to visit the rehearsal of Harriet Hilliard and Ozzie Nelson's program; however, we arrived too late. Instead we were allowed to see the rehearsal for "Blondie." We took our vantage point in the sponsor's booth and watched the orchestra and the "Supersuds Boys" (you know, "Lots more suds with Supersuds . . ."). Penny Singleton, as Blondie, was very charming and looked just as she does in the movies. Arthur (Dagwood) Lake was rather pudgy in the midsection. His famous "B-L-O-N-D-I-E!" sent little goose pimples up our spines.

Monday morning we arose at the ungodly hour of 5 o'clock to have breakfast at "Tom Brenaman's Hollywood." The restaurant reminds you of a South Sea island hut, palm trees, raffia walls, fishing nets, and deep sky-blue ceiling. Brenaman roamed through the audience asking questions and trying on funny hats. He awarded two orchids to the oldest women in the audience, one 83 and the other 83½ years old. A makeup kit and roses were also given away.

Dr. Dorothy Kaucher and two of the students also visited a television studio which is under the direction of Mr. Claus Lansberg. Lansberg, a native of Berlin, attended the University of Berlin, University of Prague, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the University of Washington, where he met his wife. Before he came to this country he was a member of the Catholic underground movement in Germany.

GAMMA PHI SIGMA BEATS UNDEFEATED DAILY STAFF 10-6

CLARK PITCHES FOUR-HIT GAME AGAINST DSG FRAT

Gamma Phi Sigma knocked the Spartan Daily softball team from the ranks of the undefeated Wednesday night, when they downed the league leaders, 10-6.

Jerry Brown set the Daily club down with eight hits during the five-inning contest.

Going into the last inning, the score was tied at 4-all. The Daily team substituted Herman Wreade for Ed Loudon on the mound, and "Big" Herm was going along fairly with one out when the fireworks started.

Gamma Phi drove six runs across in that fatal inning on five hits and two errors. The climax came when Jack Reiserer came to bat with the bases loaded.

At this time Brady and Loudon came in from the outfield to have a conference on the mound. Signals were crossed and the pitcher threw the ball over the plate, only to have Reiserer drive the ball deep into left field where nobody was stationed.

The otherwise easy fly ball was good for a home run and four runs. This, joined with the other two runs the fraternity team had previously made, jumped the score up to 10-4 in Gamma Phi's favor.

In their half of the final inning, the Daily drove in two runs and had the bases loaded with one out, only to have the next two batters retired in order.

Gamma Phi Sigma played good steady ball, and earned the victory. They now have consecutive wins over the Eleventh Street Sluggers and the Spartan Daily.

Last night the Daily met Beta Chi Sigma, and Eleventh Street Sluggers engaged Delta Sigma Gamma. Results of those games will be found in tomorrow's paper.

By WARREN BRADY

The Cardinals scored another near shut-out Wednesday night when they defeated Delta Sigma Gamma, 3-1, in a well played ball game.

Behind the four-hit pitching of Phil Clark, the Cards set DSG down with one run, a double by Wes Nunes that was stretched into a home run when a Cardinal made an error.

The game was nip and tuck all the way, with the score 1-0 in favor of the Cardinals going into the fourth inning. In this inning the DSG men tied it up at 1-all with Nunes' tally, but the Cards came back in their half of the fourth to score two runs on two hits and two errors.

Clark set the DSG men down with three straight strike outs in the top half of the fifth inning, and that was the ball game.

It is interesting to note that Pete Galli, Delta Sigma Gamma pitcher, also pitched three-hit ball. A total of only six hits were accumulated during the entire contest. (If I'm not mistaken, this looks like a league record, for this season anyway.)

DSG played again last night, meeting the Eleventh Street Sluggers . . . results in tomorrow's Daily.

Only one more week of play remains in the current softball league. Four doubleheaders will be scheduled for the last week of play, and the team possessing the best record at the end of the second round of play will be awarded the gold-plated trophy donated by Paul Hudson, local jeweler.

The four clubs that are still in the title picture include Gamma Phi Sigma, Spartan Daily, Eleventh Street Sluggers, and the Cardinals.

OFF THE RECORD

By JIM BEACOCK

In recent years singers who have appeared with well known dance orchestras have found it more profitable to strike out on their own and make a name for themselves rather than share billing with a top orchestra. The radio, motion picture industry, and tremendous build-ups have, in a large way, made this possible.

Bing Crosby, who broke in with Paul Whiteman, and Russ Columbo were two of the earliest singers to break with dance bands and earn a living on their own merits. More recently Frank Sinatra, Dick Haymes, and Perry Como have followed suit.

Sinatra started drawing attention while he was singing with Harry James' band with such recordings as "All or Nothing at All," "Here Comes the Night," and "Ciribiribin." He really caught the public's fancy when he later sang for Tommy Dorsey and recorded "I'll Never Smile Again." This one song brought him to the top as an orchestra vocalist; repeated successes such as "This Love of Mine," which he helped write, "Everything Happens to Me," "But Look at Me Now," and "Without a Song" kept him there.

The Frank Sinatra of today, now on his own, is earning far more money than would have been possible had he remained with a top orchestra as vocalist. Some of his best recordings as a free lancer are: "Night and Day," "The Night We Called It a Day," "Stormy Weather," and "Old Man River." Incidentally, Frank Sinatra had to pay Tommy Dorsey quite a sum to break his contract and release himself.

Dick Haymes also started with Harry James, and such recordings as "A Sinner Kissed an Angel," "I'll Get By," and "My Silent Love" convinced the public that he had it. He sang for Benny Goodman for a brief time and recorded "Take Me" and "Idaho" while with Goodman.
